DOWN THEY COME: Following a study carried out earlier this year on the state of the trees along the riverbank, municipal staff, with the help of Ontario Hydro, thinned the stand of willows along South Water Street last Monday. According to works superintendent Clayton Cameron, 16 trees were cut down and dead or dying limbs were removed from others. In conjunction with the thinning, the municipality has also undertaken the refurbishing of the south riverbank, installing a new retaining wall and reducing the angle of the slope from the road to the top of the wall.

Somerville election twist

Huke returned as reeve; Bradamore disqualified

by Jerry Grozelle

Brad Bradamore is crying foul. The candidate for reeve of Somerville Township was contacted on October 20 by The Times and he wasn't aware at that time that his nomination papers had been rejected. Ten signatures of eligible voters from the riding are required on all nomination papers. Bradamore had a dozen signatures, but it turned out that less than half of those people who signed were registered on the voters' list. Because the required conditions weren't met, Bradamore was disqualified as a candidate.

Since the third candidate, Doug Smith, withdrew for health reasons, incumbent reeve John Huke was officially declared acclaimed as reeve of Somerville.

Bradamore said that he submitted his nomination forms at about 2 p.m. on October 14, the day of the deadline. He claims that Somerville clerk Elinor Burke should have checked to make sure his papers were in order.

"I had lots of time to get more names if that's the question," Bradamore said. "But nobody questioned it. If there was a problem, they should have told me then. It's their duty to check them."

"So, I'm sure there'll be an investigation," Bradamore said. "All of the people who I got to sign my nomination paper are taxpayers or live in Somerville Township, guaranteed. I can tell you the houses they live in."

Election guidelines clearly state: "The onus is on the person nominated to file a bona fide nomination paper."

It also states that the only matter which the clerk must verify is that the minimum number of nominators have signed and that they are electors entitled to vote for a candidate for the office involved.

On the day of the deadline, in this case, Friday, October 14, the regulations were different.

Part B of the rules specifically relating to Nomination Day state: "Prior to 4 p.m. on the first day following Nomination Day, which is not a Saturday or a holiday (this was Monday, October 17), ACCLAIMED: John Huke has been acclaimed as reeve of Somerville Township after Doug Smith withdrew and Brad Bradamore was disqualified.

the clerk shall examine the nomination paper and, if 10 qualified nominators have signed the nomination paper, certify it. If, however, the requisite number of qualified nominators have not signed the nomination paper, the clerk shall reject the nomination immediately and give notice to the person by registered mail and to all candidates for the office."

In a helpful hints section of chapter one of The Election Process, it says that "where time permits, papers filed on Nomination Day should be checked upon receipt or as soon as possible thereafter as possible. This would allow candidates to obtain additional signatures where the number of nominators are found to be insufficient."

Bradamore said that he has already contacted election officials to complain.

"I don't think I'm even on the voters' list," Bradamore admitted. "Does that mean I'm not eligible to run?"

DISQUALIFIED: Brad Bradamore, Would-be candidate for the position of reeve of Somerville Township, has been disqualified because his nomination paper didn't have the required number of signatures from eligible voters.

Decision on OPP move not expected before 1996

by Andrew Milne

Dysart municipal council has asked the OPP to consider relocating the local detachment -- currently situated in Minden -- to Haliburton Village.

The lease on the facility in Minden currently used by the detachment expires in 1996.

Dysart council member Jerry Walker explains that, "if the OPP are looking to relocate, Dysart would like to be considered... There are no proposals on the table. It's just strictly a letter of intent to the OPP, [to the effect that] we are willing and able if it would work into their plans."

"If they're going to relocate," he says, "why not in Haliburton?"

Dysart council discussed the issue at the September council meeting, and seemed somewhat divided on the issue. One idea, that the council suggest a public building to the detachment, was contested by a

Dysart candidate Cooper supports development

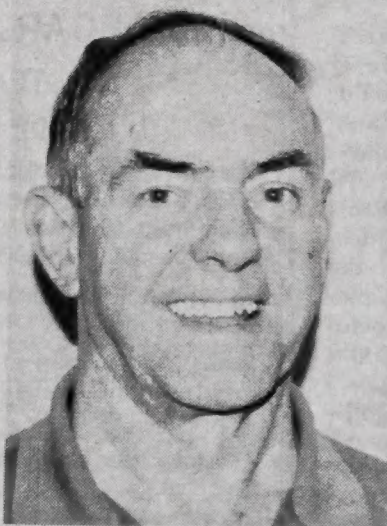

By Andrew Milne

Sid Cooper, running for deputy reeve in Dysart Township, is no stranger to local politics.

Cooper served on council for seven years, from 1981 to 1987, for two years of which he was deputy-reeve.

He says he believes that, "The number one priority is not to spend money. If there's something that's needed, rather than raise taxes we have to quit spending in some other area."

Cooper (1) believes that council should concentrate on providing opportunities for development, (2) feels the county should not be spending money on a new building, and (3) thinks municipal amalgamation is a good idea but should be done with diplomacy

Cooper says that housing is going to be a challenge for the area in the coming years.

"There are more people coming into the area all the time," he says. "And now that all the waterfront has been sold, to accommodate more people in the area we need condominiums. And we can only have those on sewage lines, so far. And so it would be nice to have the situation so that condominiums could be built. I think it's up to the council to arrange the situation and then free enterprise could do the rest."

"With a little luck then," he continues, "with the influx of more people there will be more jobs, especially in the service sector... Tourism is our big drawing card, and anything we can do to encourage that will probably help the economy of the area. And create more jobs and more opportunities for small businesses because there would be more customers to buy their wares."

Cooper does not think the county should be building a new building.

"Well, the county spent all its reserves," he says. "I feel under the economic conditions the county has placed itself, it shouldn't even be thinking of a new building. If anything, it's got to raise money for the hospital... I don't think we need a showpiece. This county shows itself."

"They'd be better off to give some of [the money]," he continued, "or all of it, to the chamber and let them advertise the county, than put up a building that people can drive by and say, wow, this county must have money."

Cooper says he thinks municipal amalgamation is a good idea, but that it will have to be done with a lot of diplomacy. Said Cooper, "It would save a lot of money if there can be some accommodation among the municipalities. But I don't think it should be stuck down anybody's throat. And the smaller municipalities lose that personal touch when they join with the other ones. It should be talked over at some length and maybe over the next three years an agreement could be reached. There should be compromise on all sides."

Davis' views on county issues

By Andrew Milne

Bill Davis, running for deputy reeve in Dysart in the upcoming election, has been down this road previously.

He has served in the office twice before. He was elected deputy-reeve in 1985, but stepped down in mid 1986 when criticised for a possible conflict of interest.

Davis also served in 1988 as deputy reeve, and stood in as reeve towards the end of his term when the previous reeve stepped down.

"I believe that the county does not have priorities," says Davis.

In summary, he has the following to say: (1) Building a new county building is too expensive to consider right now. (2) Whatever happens with the planned new hospital facilities, Hyland Crest needs repairs anyway, and has for a while. (3) The county should no longer hire a full-time engineer. (4) He likes the aims of county restructuring, but there are a lot of options for doing this. (5) A county official plan would be a duplication of services, and ratepayers in municipalities which have put money into their own plans shouldn't be expected to pay for it.

Explaining his focusing on county issues, Davis says that, since Dysart ratepayers pay around 35 percent of the levy the county receives, "Dysart has a stake in the county."

"Priority number one in my mind is the hospital bed issue," says Davis. The county is... going to be a major player in raising the funds... Part of the overall plan calls for the upgrading of Hyland Crest and the addition... And I can go out on a limb and tell you that it's between a quarter and half a million dollars worth of repairs that are going to be needed in the next three years, and a lot of them are needed right now."

Regarding the county paying a full-time engineer, Davis says, "You only need an engineer when you are doing major construction jobs. There's no budget for construction."

Davis says he does not support the construction of a new county building either. "They have no reserves," he says. "So they can't take advantage of the infrastructure funding. That's good funding if you have money in the bank. You're paying a third. But if you debenture that over fifteen years you're prob-

Nichol backs county plan

By Andrew Milne

Currently the councillor representing Dysart Ward 4, Bob Nichol, is running for the position of deputy reeve of that municipality.

He has a number of ideas for rearranging the way the county and the municipality do business.

Nichol works at the LCBO, and has lived in Haliburton County all his life. He also served on an earlier council, from 1988 to 1991.

He is suggesting (1) that deputy reeves not sit on county council, (2) that the county warden be elected directly by the populace, (3) that county restructuring should proceed towards amalgamating the four municipalities into one, (4) that a

'workfare' program be arranged, in which persons on welfare do labour for the roads department, and (5) that the county official plan be "resurrected".

"There are currently seven deputy-reeves that sit at county council," says Nichol, "I believe that to further reduce costs, and to make county council more efficient, we should take those deputy reeves and they should be eliminated from the county council table."

Nichol also said the deputy-reeves should still serve on county level committees.

"It will take a change in the municipal act," said Nichol. "But at the same time, so will downsizing the county."

Nichol did not know when asked how much such a plan would save.

He is suggesting that the county warden be elected directly because that way, "you'd have a county warden who would only have to worry about working at the county level."

Nichol also believes the four municipalities should eventually be amalgamated into one, and says he expects this would take around five to six years to achieve.

The problem of negotiating to see that the interests of all the current municipalities would be met in such a structure, he says, is a matter of sitting down with the various governments, and listening to their concerns.

"I'm proposing a county-wide restructuring," he says. "The municipalities have been divided into four. Probably

Redstone capacity report examined

By Andrew Milne

A recent carrying capacity study done in the Redstone Lake area says the lake can take another 57 lots.

Which is strange, say some residents of the lake, because a 1987 study commissioned by Dysart municipal council says the lake is at capacity.

The most recent report was done by Michael Michalski Associates.

The earlier report was prepared in March 1987 by the Greer Galloway Group for the Municipality of Dysart.

Dan McCombe is the secretary-treasurer of the Redstone Lake Cottagers Association (RLCA). McCombe says the association has been involved with the issue for some time. Back in 1987, when a local developer had been looking to sever lots on the shore of Redstone, the Greer-Galloway report said that a maximum of 13 lots could be severed, and this is all the developer did, he says.

McCombe says there are two concerns in particular which cause him to question the results of the later report, which will leave the way clear for the developer to sever up to 57 more lots.

First, says McCombe, in the Galloway report, "The north basin was found to be already overdeveloped for a level one lake. That's clearly the number one concern that I have with this."

Second, says McCombe, it was clearly pointed out in the Galloway report that there would be a problem if the number of cottages and permanent residences increased in number or in frequency of use.

And as treasurer of the cottager association, says McCombe, "I know for a fact the number of people who are on the lake and who pay their dues and are good members. And I know that when the Galloway study was done there was one permanent resident on the lake. Now there are ten."

Michael Michalski, whose firm prepared the later report, says his numbers are valid, and "pass muster" with what he considers the valid set of standards available from the government, even though the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources

(MNR) still has concerns with his report related to lake trout habitat degradation.

Both the Ministry of Environment and Energy (MOEE) and the MNR reviewed the report, he told the Dysart municipal council October 11.

The MOEE, he says, is essentially in agreement with his report.

The MNR, on the other hand, he says, has concerns with it, relating to lake trout habitat. He says, their position is that he will have to wait for a definitive answer on what constitutes an acceptable level of habitat degradation for the trout.

He says, however, that there is a set of standards in place that he feels should be acceptable in ably paying more for that money than if you got a fifty-fifty grant."

Davis on county

Davis says a $200,000 addition would be a much better solution.

Regarding restructuring of the county: "I quite agree with the intent," he says. "But there are other ways of doing restructuring without changing the boundaries. It can be done by dividing the county into four wards, or six wards."

Regarding a county official plan: "The ministry indicated... that planning in the smaller municipalities would be held up because they had no plan... So the proposal was made to the county to get involved with an official plan," said Davis.

Therefore the larger municipalities, which have spent money on their own plans, shouldn't be expected to pay for a county plan, he says.

"Most official plans that exist now... deal with county issues," said Davis.

Nichol: 'workfare'

down the road in the years to come we should be in one municipality."

Nichol also feels the county should have an official plan.

"That would be easier of course if the townships were downsized," he said.

"You need an official plan," he says, "so people who handle development property know how it can be done; where it can be done."

Finally, Nichol's ideas for workfare:

"This is a contentious issue," said Nichol, "but I think that anyone who's on welfare should have to go to work."

"We have three roads departments. They're in three different parts of the county. There's no reason that they can't report -- wherever they live in the county -- to that one roads yard and let the roads department find something for them to do."

"The party's over," said Nichol. "People have got to go to work for it."

the meantime. The 1979 Foster-Giles agreement, he says — a document signed by deputy ministers of both the MNR and the MOEE — indicates that the government refers to the bluebook, a 1984 publication which sets out objectives for temperature and various other parameters of water quality that have a relationship to aquatic biota, for criteria for studies like his.

While the MNR is working on its criteria, said Michalski, "the province can't stop and wait for something to happen. And I maintain that until something does happens that municipalities and the province have the Foster-Giles agreement to fall back on."

"Our report passes muster with respect to the Foster-Giles agreement," Michalski told the council.

Michalski also seemed to disagree with McCombe's view that there is more winter usage of the lake now. He postulated that, even with more winterized cottages on the lake, usage could still be lower. The council has set a 90 day review period so the RLCA will have an opportunity to review the Michalski report and prepare a presentation to council for January 9, 1995.

"We as an association are not opposed to development," says McCombe.

"But," he continues, "we are concerned about controlled development."

Government will decide on OPP move

council member who felt it should be a matter for private enterprise.

Staff Sergeant Dennis Edlington of the Minden OPP says the decision on where the OPP detachment will be located after 1996 will not be made for some time in any case.

It's up to the management board secretariat of the provincial government, says Edlington, and they aren't likely to be looking at the issue until late 1995 or early 1996.

"Quite frankly there are quite a lot of other things in the fire right now," said Edlington. "The QPP is going through a big reorganization. And I don't know what is going to come out of that. That may impact on it -- I don't know. There's a multitude of things that could happen and that's why they're trying not to get too far ahead of themselves on this issue."

Another possibility for relocating the detachment was proposed at the county level. County warden Jim McMahon has suggested a new county building to be located in Minden, potentially with attached offices for the OPP. There is, however, opposition to this scheme. Critics charge that it is too much money for the county to be spending at this time.

Correction:

An article in the October 17 Times (page 6, re the Glamorgan all-candidates meeting), described Tom Vos, a candidate for the post of councillor, as a police officer who spoke of the importance of policing issues, and of his feeling that an open office door is important in government."

The article then quoted him as saying, "When people come in and sit down to talk about them, large problems become small problems."

Both the description and the quotation actually pertain to Tom Brown, another candidate for the post. Vos was not at the meeting.

Vos was a technical instructor for Northern Telecom for 35 years prior to his retirement. He does not believe that more policing is necessary in the community.

"One of my goals, if elected," said Vos in a written statement to the Times, when he called the matter to our attention, "is to create activities to keep children, teens and young adults active, something which has not been done over the past few years."

The Times regrets the error.

Needless to say there was a great deal of relief among the members of the business community and those who enjoy trail-based winter activities, when the Haliburton Forest Owners Association announced last week that the threat of closure of their property would be withdrawn for a year.

The business community, which increasingly relies on snowmobiling and cross-country skiing as a secondary support for the Highlands tourism economy, was very concerned about the impact any closure would have on its sector. Winter tourism has become an important "junior partner" to the impact the summer tourist traffic has on the local economy. The expansion of the trails by the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association and the Haliburton Nordic Trails group has created an infrastructure which has attracted a loyal following of winter sports enthusiasts. There are, however, many other areas in the province, which, having seen the success of the local effort, have copied it and are more than eager to provide services for those who may not be able to find them here. That scenario was a real possibility when the land owners threatened to deny access to trails which have been built over the years.

While that threat has passed, it has not disappeared completely. The land owners have agreed to wait to see if the next provincial election will bring a more sympathetic ear to their concerns. And while the threat to this year's winter tourism season has passed, a new deadline looms in a year's time.

We can only hope that the intervening period will be used productively and that an agreement can be reached which will recognized the need of the landowners to be charged an equitable tax rate for the maintenance of what is in fact a public trust, and that in return, reasonable public access will be available to lands granted such relief. Only by equitably resolving this issue can the Highlands community, including those in business, trail users and trail builders, be assured that their interests will not be held hostage again next year.

Meet the candidates

Once again this The Times is pleased to host an all-candidates meeting for Anson, Hindon and Minden ratepayers. The evening provides a forum for the candidates to explain their platforms and for the public to ask questions.

The meeting will be held this Thursday at Archie Stouffer Elementary School Gymnasium starting at 7 p.m.

A great hospital

(Editor's Note: The following letter was sent to the staff of the Minden Hospital.

All Staff:

My recent stay in your fine hospital was indeed a fine one. It is a relief to see that some hospitals still take pride in their work. All the details to make me feel more comfortable were taken care of with a smiling face and a keen sense of humour.

In particular, I would like to thank Dr. Holliday-Rhodes for the fine care and the nurses Gladys, Sheila, Heather, Jennifer, Jeannette, Gwen, Cindy and Cynthia. Excellent staff! Made me feel as close to comfortable as I could possibly get in a hospital. Thanks Heather for offering tea anytime!

The food somehow wasn't hospital food. It was much better! Thanks Chris for the fine meals.

Certainly one of the cleanest hospitals I've seen. A thank you to Sharon in housekeeping.

I feel much better now; much I'm sure due to the great work of everyone involved with my stay. Keep up the good work!

St. Joseph's Hospital is second to none.

Hopefully my next visit will be a visit and not a stay.

Hallowe'en safety in McKayville

Editor:

We live in McKayville. Every Hallowe'en we have between 150 and 200 trick-or-treaters come to our door. We like Hallowe'en and really enjoy the kids filling up the neighbourhood. What we don't like is the traffic.

Over the years I've seen some pretty scary close calls. The traffic gets absolutely chaotic! People pull over on both sides of the street leaving little room for moving traffic. I've actually seen people driving around with their car doors left open!

Excited kids are running everywhere, and kids and cars don't mix well. It's an accident waiting to happen.

If you are coming to our neighbourhood this year, please find a place to park your car and then walk. How about the parking lot at the Library or the School?

Donna Austin and family,
Minden.

Just let the kids play hockey

Editor:

My eight-year-old son is playing his second year in the Minden Minor Hockey League. I had been told repeatedly that it is was a mistake putting him in Minden because of all the politics. Well, I have learned that the league isn't the problem, it is some of the parents. They should stop their bickering and realize this isn't the NHL, it is Minden.

So what if the parent that helped out opening the door the players' box isn't a certified coach? The other two excellent coaches who donate their time are certified.

So what if your child only (supposedly) played four minutes in the last game? So did every other child on that particular line in that game. If your child is that superior, take him down to Toronto to play Kids' All Star where he will get the attention he deserves. Let the other kids play hockey and have fun and leave the other parents in peace.

Your actions affect your children. Look whose kids have tantrums, break sticks and cry if they lose. Not mine. He had fun and that is what counts.

I guess it is true, the seed doesn't fall far from the tree.

J. Davidson,
Kinmount.

Fall run

English.....how she is spoke

Bear with me, folks. I've come up with a brand new theory that explains Quebec's perpetual skittishness when it comes to accepting the familial Canadian embrace.

I think they're scared of us.

Not physically - after all they now have Wendell Clark in a Nordiques uniform. No, I believe the Quebecois feel unequal to the challenge of English. They're afraid of our language.

Well, think about it. The French speak (as the French have never tired of pointing out to us) the world's most beautiful language.

Whereas the rest of us in Canada speak the world's most...well, condescending language.

You think I exaggerate? Is there another language on the planet that allows its practioners to pronounce the letters ough six, count em', six different ways.

English does. We have tough, through, thorough, cough, hiccough and bough.

English must be a nightmare to learn when it's not your first language. And that's never more apparent than when you travel abroad and encounter non-English speakers who try to get a grip on our language...and don't quite manage it.

S o m e - times the language gets more than mangled - it becomes unintentionally x-rated.

It's enough to bring a blush to the cheeks of Anglophone and Anglophobe alike.

There is for instance, the chic boutique in Paris that enthusiastically advertises "dresses for street walking".

And the hotel in Tokyo that advised its English speaking clientele "You are invited to take advantage of the chambermaid".

There's a sign in front of a shop in Bangkok that reads "Drop your trousers here for best results".

Don't get yourself excited - the shop is a dry cleaning establishment.

Then there's the hotel in Zurich which tells its guests "Because of the impropriety of entertaining guests of the opposite sex in the bedroom, it is suggested that the lobby be used for this purpose".

A n d there's a doctor in Rome who probably can't understand why English-speaking patients stay away from his clinic in droves. His business card states that he specializes in "women and other diseases".

A Swedish furrier in Stockholm is also no doubt driving tourists away with his advertising. He offers "High style coats made for ladies from their own skin". Ouch.

And there's the ultimate safe-sex tour offered by a tourist agency in Prague, Czechoslovakia. "Take one of our all-day horse-driven city tours", purrs the brochure. "We guarantee to miscarriages."

Oh, it's a tricky and bushwacking language, this mother tongue of ours. Reminds me of the story I heard from a nurse about a doctor she once worked for. He was a Haitian and he spoke several languages, but not altogether fluently.

English was one of the tongues he was still working on. "What I want to know," said the doctor to the nurse one day, "is the meaning of this English expression 'having sex'".

With no little embarrassment, the nurse explained your basic Birds n' Bees to the doctor. He was still mystified.

"That's all it means?," he said. "Then why do you say it to people when you're surprised to see them?"

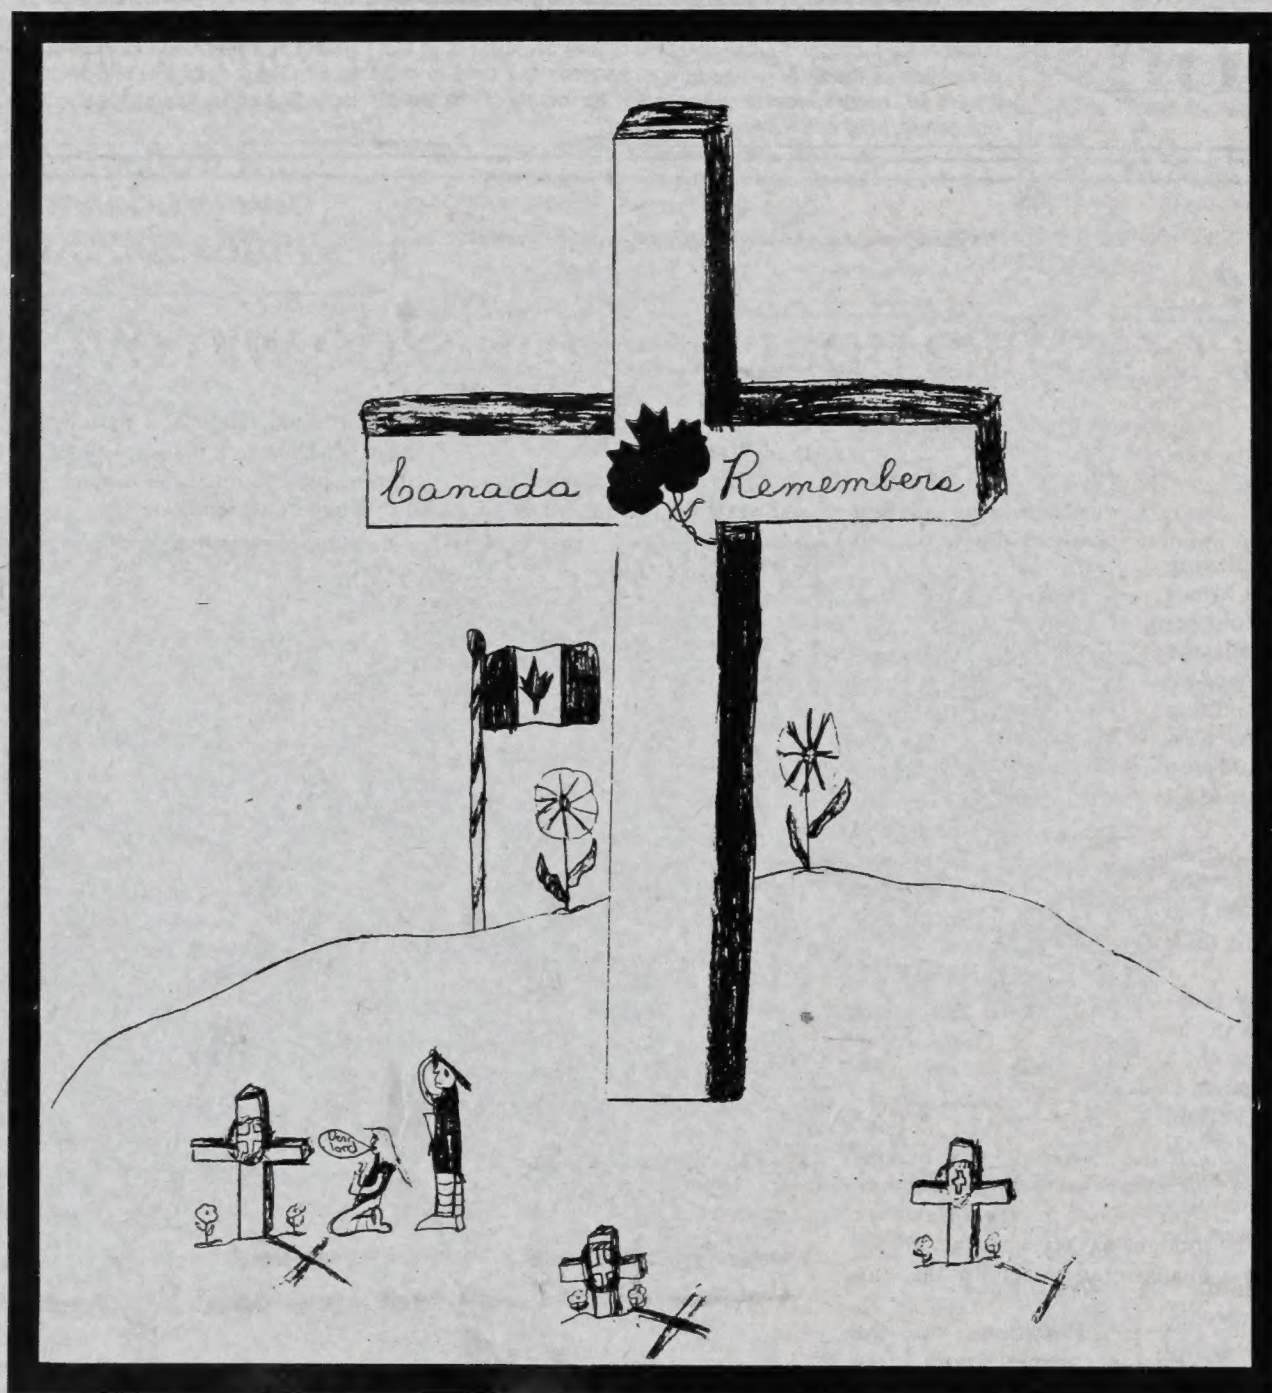

The nurse was buffaloed. She didn't know what the Haitian was talking about.

"You know," the doctor explained, "you run into an old friend and say 'oh, for having sex, it's so good to see you again.'"

I hope she straightened him out, for heaven's sake.

Hamilton scores five goals in Westside win over Hartwick

Stamp 3, Times 3

Two of the six Minden Men's Hockey Association teams seem to be evenly matched at this early stage of the season. This was demonstrated when the Sid Stamp Fuels squad and The Times team battled to a 3-3 draw on October 17.

The Stamp squad got on the scoreboard first with a goal by Eldon Bull.

Before the first period ended, The Times scored twice. Mark Thompson and Paul Mayo were the marksmen.

Dennis McKee added one to The Times side of the scoreboard in the second half for a 3-1 lead.

The Stamp crew rebounded with two in a row to earn the tie. Gary Harrison and Boomer Stamp were the snipers.

McKee drew two assists for The Times, with single helpers going to Mayo and Thompson.

Stamp, Bull, Tom Miscio and Greg Hurle had one assist each for the Stamp team.

Home 12, KDD 2

The second game of the night was a blowout. Home Hardware skated to a 12-2 victory over Kountry Double D.

KDD scored both of its goals in the first period and actually tied Home at 2-2. But from that point on Home dominated, scoring 10 unanswered goals.

The KDD sharpshooters were Greg Alexander and Ben Manuge, with an assist going to Bill Hogg.

Dave Hartwick led the Home Hardware assault, scoring a hat trick and adding three assists. Wyatt Nesbitt was close behind with three goals and a pair of assists. Kent Taylor notched two goals and two assists, while Barry Shaw, Kim Colliss and John Ballantyne had a goal and one assist apiece. Jim Crawford scored the other marker and Andy Schelling picked up one assist.

Westside 9, Hartwick 3

The league's 10 p.m. game saw Westside Jug City triple Hartwick Construction 9-3.

Westside held a 3-2 advantage at the end of the first half. But the Hartwick crew evened the score early in the second. That was it for Hartwick though, as Westside added six unanswered goals for the victory.

Scott Hamilton led the Westside scoring with five goals and two assists. Craig Crowe netted two goals and helped set up five more. Dave Ross had a goal and one assist and a single marker went to Monty Miscio. John Fedeski notched a pair of assists and single helpers went to Andy Campbell, Dave Rogers, Scott Danilko, Harold Cowan and Paul Walker.

Andrew Burk scored twice and assisted on the other goal for Hartwick. Glen Hall netted the other Hartwick marker. Ivan Ingram picked up three assists and Bruce Pettes had one.

The Minden Men's League plays three games every Monday evening with games starting at 8, 9 and 10 p.m.

Getting a leg up?: Hartwick substitute goalie Paul Humber gets a leg up on the competition (above) just a little too late. The Hartwick crew bowed to Westside 9-3 in the last of three Minden Men's Hockey Association games last week.

OMHA atom hockeyShaw's hat trick not enough

by Jerry Grozelle

A hat trick by Joshua Shaw wasn't quite enough to give the Minden Monarchs atom OMHA team a win over Woodville on October 15. The visiting Woodville team scored four markers to shade Minden 4-3.

Shaw opened the scoring a minute and a half after the opening faceoff, with assists going to Jonathan Horsley and Jamie Colliss.

Woodville took over the lead with two goals before the buzzer sounded to end the first period.

After a scoreless middle frame, Woodville opened up a 3-1 lead. Shaw's second goal, assisted by Ashley Pettes, narrowed Woodville's advantage to 3-2. The visitors managed to get another one past Minden goaltender Jeremy Davis with 1:38 left in the third.

The Monarchs didn't give up though. Just 14 seconds later Shaw rounded out his hat trick, cutting Woodville's lead to 4-3 with 1:24 left in the game.

Although the Monarchs continued to press, the equalizer never came and the visitors held on for the 4-3 win.

"I was impressed because we never quit," said coach Barry Shaw. "Woodville capitalized on our mistakes."

Shaw said that defencemen Trevor Woods, Kent Greer and Stephen Johnson played well, as did forwards Ashley Pettes, Andy Kinsman, Mike Hamilton, Jamie Colliss, Jonathan Horsley and Josh Shaw.

"Jeremy Davis played a great game in net for us," Shaw added.

The game the next day in Beaverton was another heartbreaker, with the Monarchs coming out on the short end of a 5-3 score.

"Talent-wise, we are a better team," said coach Shaw. "But the Beaverton boys are bigger."

Shaw said that it was a rough game, with the referees keeping their whistles in their pockets.

"For two and a half periods we outplayed Beaverton but we lost our cool in the last half of the third period," Shaw said, adding that Beaverton has a very aggressive team.

Neither team was able to get the puck past the opposition's goalie in the first frame.

Mark Hamilton opened the scoring for Minden a minute and a half into the second, converting a pass from Andy Kinsman. A couple of minutes later Beaverton notched the equalizer and the middle frame ended in a 1-1 deadlock.

Beaverton went ahead at the 1:32 mark of the third but Kinsman cancelled that lead a minute later with assists going to Kent Greer and Hamilton. The Monarchs jumped in front again with a goal from Ashley Pettes. Hamilton picked up his third point of the game with an assist on that marker.

Two quick goals put the Beaverton boys in front again and another goal with 33 seconds showing on the clock iced the win for the home side.

The atom Monarchs were scheduled to play three games this past weekend. Results will be printed next week. Two games are on tap this coming weekend. Saturday, October 29 Cannington will make the trip to Minden for a 2 p.m. game. The Monarchs will go to Bobcaygeon Sunday for a 7 p.m. contest.

Wallace notches lone Minden tyke goal in two games

The highlight of a pair of weekend hockey games for the Minden Monarchs tyke OMHA team was a goal by Nicky Wallace. The goal was set up by David McGlade in an October 15 game in Minden against Haliburton.

Haliburton already led 3-0 on a pair of goals by Adam Sisson and one by Jade MacInnes at the time. Sisson rounded out his hat trick in the third period to give Haliburton a 4-1 win.

The next day the Minden team went to Fenelon Falls. The host squad played a strong game, winning 10-0.

The Minden tykes played a pair of games this past Saturday, one in Minden at 10 a.m. and the other in Haliburton at 3 p.m. Results of those games will be printed in next week's paper.

The next game is slated for Saturday, October 29 in Minden, when the Monarchs will play host to Beaverton.

OMHA Midget actionMonarchs defeat Woodville 5-2

Scoring the first goal of the game doesn't guarantee a win. The Woodville midget OMHA hockey team can testify to that.

Woodville played host to the Minden Monarchs on October 15 and although the home team scored the opening goal, it was the visitors who won the game. The final score was 5-2 in favour of the Monarchs.

Woodville drew first blood four minutes after the opening faceoff. Two minutes and six seconds later, Jackie Morrison scored the equalizer for Minden. Jeff Wray assisted.

With 4:50 to go in the opening frame, Matt Galbraith scored an unassisted goal to give Minden a 2-1 lead. That's how the score stood at the end of the period.

Two seconds remained in the second period when Morrison scored his second marker of the game. He was set up by Chris Eskelin and Curtis Fielding.

The third period saw the Monarchs increase their lead to 4-1 at the 6:21 mark. Curtis Reynolds converted a pass from Benji Crego for a three-goal lead.

Woodville got one back about three minutes later but it took the Monarchs less than a minute to regain the three-goal advantage. Eskelin was the Minden marksman, scoring on an unassisted effort.

The next scheduled home game for the midget Monarchs is Saturday, October 22. The opening faceoff against Manvers will be 9 p.m.

HALIBURTON HIGHLANDS OUTDOORS ASSOCIATION

Deerhound Lost-and-Found

This year the Haliburton Highlands Outdoors Association is running a service for deer & moose hunters and any person who may find a lost hound.

If you find a lost hound during this year's moose or deer hunt, first check the dog's collar for an identification plate with the owners name and phone number. If the dog has a number clipped or painted on it, you may contact the owner using the list below, or drop the dog off at a Lost-and-Found Centre. If the dog has no number you may drop the dog off at any one of the nine Deerhound Lost-and Found Centres listed below.

If you are the owner of a lost hound and are not registered with the Association, you should call any of the Lost-and-Found Centres. At the end of this year's hunt, unclaimed dogs will be turned over to the nearest municipal pound. Following the hunt, please call your municipal office.

Camps registered with the Lost-and-Found should display their camp number at their road entrance. To claim your dog at a Lost-and-Found Centre you must provide proper identification and pay a $5.00 per day boarding fee.

The Haliburton Highlands Outdoors Association is an Association dedicated to the outdoor sport of hunting and fishing and currently has about 500 members. The Association thanks those individuals and businesses who have volunteered to act as a drop-off centre. If you wish to join the Association please contact Steve Berry at 286-1826 (home) or 286-2750 (business).

Novice Bs looking for first win

With two games played, the Minden novice B Monarchs hockey team is still looking for a win. The Monarchs tangled with Haliburton in Minden on October 15. Haliburton came out on top in that one by a 7-2 score.

Dustin Prindville opened the scoring with the only goal of the first period. Andy Dawson assisted.

Nick Judge made it 2-0 for Haliburton in the middle frame on a setup from Matthew Roberts.

Three more were added to the Haliburton side of the scoreboard before the Monarchs got their first goal. Prindville notched three more and Kyle Boughner added one. Josh Brown, Dawson and Judge had two assists each, with Don Craig and Roberts assisting on one each.

Minden's first goal was an unassisted effort by Mark Fisher, making it 6-1.

Boughner replied for Haliburton, from Daniel Jung and Roberts.

The final marker of the game went to Minden's Kolt Smith. Cory Simms assisted.

Later the same day, the Monarchs went to Woodville where they lost by a 3-0 score.

The novice B Monarchs played host to Haliburton Saturday. Their next game is scheduled for Thursday in Bobcaygeon at 6 p.m. and the next home game is against Woodville at 11 a.m. Saturday.

Lawn bowlers celebrate successful season

To close the 1994 Lawn Bowling Season the members and guests met for dinner at the Red Umbrella Inn on October the fifth.

President Ross Farr welcomed everyone and introduced Doreen and Bern Berry and Simone and Alfred Palmer. Reeve Bern Berry brought greetings from the Anson, Hindon and Minden Council. The Palmers, who no longer reside in Minden, were members of the Club when it was organized fifteen years ago.

After dinner was served, the club trophies were presented to the winners.

Betty Hardman presented the Eric Hardman trophy to the first series quad winners Joan Mackenzie, Helen Burton, Maurice Winterflood and Lloyd Boskett.

Jim Burton, Elinor Smith, Harold McCarthy and Richarda Rogers won the second quad series. A Club trophy was presented to them by Cecil Rowe. The above team, skipped by Jim Burton, also won the President's Trophy, which was presented by President Ross Farr.

Donald Sinclair presented the Ethel Sinclair Memorial Trophy to the first series trebles winners Laurel Tompkins, Shirley Treveld and Pat Clarke.

Howie Ryan, Dalton Flatt and Pat Scott, winners of the second series of trebles games, were presented with the Dorothy Wibert Memorial Trophy by Gala Heal.

Howie Ryan, Dalton Flatt and Pat Scott also were the winners of the Club Trophy presented to them by May Sinclair.

Lew Tompkins presented the golf trophy to the winners Ross Farr, Vi Howell and Barbara Walker.

Following the presentation of trophies, the members enjoyed music provided by the Kidd Country Band.

The 1995 Club Executive: President Eleanor Crane, Vice-President Barbara Walker, Second Vice-President Lew Tompkins, Secretary Elinor Smith and

Treasurer Cecil Rowe have set the date for the spring annual meeting. It is to be held on May 10 at 7:30 p.m.

Bantam Bs give up first-period lead

by Jerry Grozelle

A 2-1 lead at the end of the first period evaporated on October 16 as the Minden Monarchs Tri-County bantams took on their counterparts at the Ops arena. Ops got back on even terms less than a minute into the second frame and took the lead with 1:10 left in the period.

The host team continued its momentum into the third, scoring one more unanswered marker to take a 4-2 win.

After Ops notched the first goal of the game, George Godfrey scored the tying marker at the 3:48 mark of the opening frame. Curtis Barry and Jason Horsley assisted.

Minden went ahead 2-1 with a goal by Matt Cheeseman, with assists going to Gavin Gartshore and Kirk Smith.

Ops dominated the scoring after that.

Minden coach Scott Gartshore said his team seemed to be holding back. He thinks this being the first year for body contact might have had a bearing on the game.

He remains optimistic, saying: "We're going to do alright."

That game was the first of the season for the Minden boys. They played in Sunderland this past Saturday and this Wednesday they will travel to Manvers for a 7 p.m. game. The first home game for the Minden boys will be this coming Saturday when they will play host to Manvers. The opening faceoff is slated for 6 p.m. They don't have another game scheduled until Saturday, November 5. That will be another home game, with Ops providing the competition. It will also be a 6 p.m. start.

Outdoors Association stocks 4,400 rainbow trout locally

by Jerry Grozelle

Several lakes and streams are richer, in terms of fish, thanks to the efforts of the Haliburton Highlands Outdoors Association. The association raised close to 5,000 rainbow trout at two locations in Haliburton County and stocked those fish in county waters on October 15.

Scott Vasey is the chairman of the fish committee of the HHOA. Vasey is a licensed aquaculturist, trained at Sir Sandford Fleming College in Lindsay. He supervised the raising of the fish. Half were raised in pens in Bronson Lake and the other half were raised in Blue Lake, which is part of the Haliburton Forest and Wildlife Preserve.

Several volunteers from the HHOA membership assisted with the transportation from the rearing pens to the stocking locations. The transfer of the fish started at about 7:30 a.m. and finished at about 3 p.m.

County waters that were stocked include: Cedar Lake, Minden Lake, Gull River, Buckskin Lake, Little Esson Lake, Cardiff Lake, Kabakwa Lake, Coburn Lake and the Drag River system.

The final cost to the association has yet to be calculated but it is expected to be in excess of $4,000. Five thousand fish were purchased by the association this past spring at a cost of $2,500. The cost of feed and other expenses still have to be calculated.

The average size of the fish raised in the Blue Lake enclosure was about 12 inches and from three-quarters of a pound to one pound. The Bronson Lake fish were larger, averaging 14 1/2 inches and weighing as much as a pound and a quarter.

The reason for raising these rainbow trout to this size was to guarantee a much more favourable rate of survival. Vasey reports that there was no loss of fish during the transportation process to their new homes.

Although the largest number of fish stocked in any one body of water was about 600, anglers can see an immediate benefit. This is one of several projects the association has undertaken to enhance fishing opportunities in Haliburton County.

"The project was definitely a success," Vasey said. "We're going to do it again next year."

The Haliburton Highlands Outdoors

Association has just started its third year in operation. The rainbow trout raising and stocking project is one of several that the HHOA has initiated. It has improved three lake trout spawning beds over the past two summers, two in Gull Lake this past summer and one in Kennisis Lake in 1993.

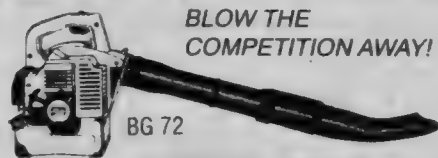

The association is dedicated to the preservation and enhancement of fishing and hunting opportunities within Haliburton County and the surrounding area.

Fishery enhancement: Volunteers from the Haliburton Highlands Outdoors Association transferred about 4,400 rainbow trout from enclosures in Bronson and Blue Lakes to several water bodies in Haliburton County. The association raised the fish to an average of one pound in size, ensuring the maximum survival of the released fish.

Reversing drug and alcohol abuse requires positive family support

The Haliburton County Community Action Group on Alcohol and Drugs (CAG) was initiated three years ago in direct response to the Anti-Drug Secretariat established by the provincial government in 1988, following the drug-related death of 12-year-old Benji Hayward at a concert in Toronto. CAG (a sub-committee of the Haliburton Social Action Committee) consists of representatives from various sectors of our community who are working together to increase awareness of substance use and abuse and to promote healthy lifestyles.

CAG's goal is to increase public awareness about issues concerning alcohol and drug use/abuse. It does this by organizing community events such as Drug Awareness Week, the Smart Choices Poster Campaign, Workshops and Displays. The latest information on substance use and healthy lifestyle options is available at all the events.

Alcohol and drug problems can touch any family. None of us is immune. In this, the International Year of the Family, the whole concept of family is undergoing change. But regardless of how it may look on the outside, your own family can often help you in solving problems when they arise.

According to the Addiction Research Foundation, in its Take Action pamphlet series, people are less likely to have problems with substance abuse when there is positive support within the family. In other words, people on whom they can depend.

Michele Bromley, Addiction Counsellor at FourCAST in Minden, agrees. "Having someone to lean on can make a big difference," she says. "This 'someone' helps people feel confident and worthwhile, making them better prepared to avoid problems caused by alcohol and drug abuse."

How does the average family build those feelings? "It's not as hard as we sometimes imagine," Bromley pointed out. "Little things such as praising family members, even if their achievement is small, and talking about your concern for their well-being are both good practices."

When problems arise, as they are bound to in any family, try to keep things in perspective. There is always something positive in any situation.

Accepting family members as they are and encouraging them to express their own opinions goes a long way in building a strong person. Make certain you show everyone in your family that your acceptance and love is always there without conditions.

Look for ways to share activities and spend time together. This helps strengthen the bonds between you. Then, when you are under stress, seek out their support. If you have followed these simple guidelines, the support will be there when you need it. That support can be especially crucial when dealing with an issue of alcohol or substance abuse.

Watch next week's paper for more information on "Raising the issue of Alcohol or Drug Abuse". Also watch for the upcoming schedule of events for Drug Awareness Week, November 11 to 19.

For more information regarding CAG or Drug Awareness Week activities, call Michele Bromley at FourCAST at 286-4897.

Topic: Communications

Marg Graham guest speaker at Minden W.I.

On Wednesday, October 19, Jean Cox, Vice President, welcomed the 13 members of Minden Women's Institute to the lounge of "The Terrace" with guest Margaret Graham of H.K.P.R. She spoke on Communications with many ideas and advice in many areas and how to cope with the ill or elderly, showing us how we may assist with deafness and after-effects of a stroke. She also told us of the effects on family members. Also, some ways of preventing illness, as with correct meals, safety devices, visits with doctor or minor exercise. In many ways we can adjust to changes and be helpful.

A small gift was given to her and all

The Card Report had Irene Moore sending 14 cards since the last meeting and collections for this fund and Pennies for Friendship were taken. A few changes were made on some of the next meetings on the programs. We then heard from Convenor Beulah Hewitt with her talk on the industry, at one time going on at Eagle Lake, called the International Cooperage.

She gave many details and memories. At one time 60 men were employed there and Beulah told of production of Barrel Heads from fresh cut timber being shipped to U.S.A. The whistle at this mill was a time keeper, and at times a fire alarm. It closed in 1954/55.

Bette Herlihey read the verse "Men of the Cooperage Dry Side", with some names some of us remember. We all appreciated this fine talk and the memories. We then adjourned and Doris Grant went on with the Auction of items turned in, and all enjoyed this and the lunch which followed.

Our next meeting is November 16 at the Library and Cultural Centre at 2 p.m. with topic on Citizenship or Legislation. We welcome all interested ladies.

HCSA appreciates forest owners' reprieve

by Brian Watts, HCSA President

Because this is the first update of the 94/95 season, I have many things to cover, so here goes. First I would like to cover the progress of the Haliburton Forest Owners Association (HFOA) and their ongoing battle with the NDP Government. As we are all aware by now, the government has refused to put forth any solution to help reestablish the tax rebate program or any form of taxation that would be equitable for the forest owners. At a meeting held on October 11 by HFOA they recognized that relying on the government to come forth by November 1 was, to say the least, a dream.

Realizing the devastation that would occur and caring for their neighbours and community, the forest owners agreed to extend for one year the November 1 deadline.

I would, at this time, sincerely like to thank each and every member of HFOA and extend the same sincerity to all our land owners. If not for your commitment to the HCSA and other groups, winter tourism would cease to be, thanks again.

But this is not the end of our fight. We must all stand united behind our forest owners to help and support them in their cause.

We have in place a commitment from both opposition parties for further dialogue and negotiations to an equitable conclusion. The HCSA stands firm in its support and will help in any way that we are asked.

To carry on with the commitments of the HCSA, we have just returned from the World's Largest Snowmobile Show. And what a show it was. Everything pertaining to snowmobiling was there. Six buildings full of displays, people from everywhere, all over Canada, U.S.A. and even Europe. Again this year, as in the past, HCSA was there in force, manning parking lots and main gates, giving out maps and magazines, helping with security and serving in the Beer Gardens. The weatherman was very co-operative and gave us a very enjoyable, and successful, weekend. Many thanks go to all who volunteered their time so the HCSA stays in the hub of the action.

The Haliburton section in Building 6 was very impressive from all the resorts, chamber, Woman on Snow, HCSA, Haliburton Forest, dealers, repair people having great looking booths. I am sure we made it clear to "Joe Public" that Haliburton is "Open for Business".

Upon returning to Haliburton, I took all the sold tickets for our annual Consumer's Choice Draw to the Dysart Municipal Office where Donna McCallum drew the lucky winner. Congratulations goes to Brett Bradbeer of Thornhill, Ontario, who purchased his lucky ticket at the Markham Show.

When at the Markham Show, the HCSA unveiled some neat and great stuff. Wow! You should see our neat clothing. So, if you want to look sharp and support the HCSA, call me for your closest clothing supplier.

Our new-look map was ready at show time and given out at the show, so if you haven't got one, check with your regular outlet for your free copy. And be sure to support the a map advertisers as they support the HCSA.

Your first Drive Education Course is November 19. For further information on courses, contact Mike Burke at 754-2637 or Larry Hutchinson at 754-4229.

If anyone out there is ready to volunteer some time, or if you have any questions relating to the business of the HCSA, call me at 286-6962.

(P.S. The Almanac says lots of heavy snow for November, so with that bit of wisdom...see you on the trails! Ride safe, ride sober!)

New site for emergency house

By Andrew Milne

The women's emergency house has found a new home.

The facility, conceived to meet the needs of women in abusive relationships who need somewhere safe to stay while they make more permanent arrangements, should be under construction as of April 1995, if all goes as planned.

SIRCH (Support Initiatives for Residents in the County of Haliburton), the agency which is organizing the project, has been working on it for more than a year now. The house will be built as an addition to the current SIRCH facility.

An earlier site proposed for the house was abandoned for various reasons, one of which was opposition from landowners adjacent to the property.

Susan Wilson is a community liaison worker for SIRCH. She explains that the house is specifically intended for short term use. Says Wilson, "This is a place for people to come and get their feet back on the ground and decide what they want to do next."

"For women in this situation," she continues, "the most important thing is to decide what to do next. They've been told what to do every day of their lives. They have to practise deciding for themselves. It's simply to create a safe haven for them to decide what that is."

Wilson says that, having had no such facility available locally in the past, many women in abusive situations stay in them because they have nowhere else to go. For many women, leaving the community simply isn't a viable option.

"The point is of course," she says, "that if you're in this kind of situation and you want to get out of it, but you've got a job which you can't afford to leave because you can't afford to lose the money [and] your kids are in school and you don't want to disrupt their schooling.... you don't want to have to leave your community. And at the moment that's what these women have to do."

"Obviously," she continues, "coming to the women's emergency house will not be the answer for every woman who wants to leave an abusive situation. In some cases, for everybody's safety, they should leave the county."

In choosing the new site, says Wilson, "women who have been in abusive situations — and indeed some who still are — were consulted about what they thought of this option... They were unanimously supportive. They think this is a very good place to have it — attached to a place that has a sense of authority about it. Abusers hate authority."

The owner of the property was told by Dysart municipal council to seek a minor variance before building the addition, which requires that neighbours within 60 metres be informed of the changes that are being requested. When this is done, there will be a public meeting November 7, to explain the project, and, should all go as planned, the variance will be before the council for approval November 14. There is then a 30 day waiting period, meaning SIRCH should have the final go-ahead on the project by the middle of December.

Learning skills to make a difference

A coaching and leadership fair attracted over 75 participants to Camp Wanakita October 16. A variety of programs aimed at improving youth leadership skills were offered to the participants. Among the many seminars offered was a panel discussion on how to set and achieve goals. Among the panellists were, above, from the left, Craig Taylor, a speed and power trainer with the Ottawa Lions Track and Field Club; Lesley Tashlin, a member of the Canadian National Track Team and competitor in this summer's Commonwealth games, and Taly Williams, a player with the Toronto Argonauts. Tashlin and Williams are former HHSS students. Panel moderator Janine Papadopoulos is seen at the right. In the photo on the left, Andy Rush, a former artistic director for the Blue Skies Music Festival and a drama and music teacher, leads a group in a tossing game designed to help students focus and work together. The aim of the workshop was to assist students in uncovering hidden talents. The day was sponsored by Supportive Initiatives for Residents in the County of Haliburton, (SIRCH).

Seniors take time to enjoy the season

Hi Folks, it's been a wonderful Thanksgiving week, weather-wise, with the sun shining. It showed the beauty of the trees and we had a delicious turkey dinner, complete with pumpkin pie.

Sunday we missed Estella as she was unable to be here to read our story, but we sure look forward to her return. In the evening our Chapel Service was taken by Rev. John Burgess. I'm sorry, as I was away, I don't have the information as to who was here to play the organ. But whoever it was, thank you, as it sure enhances our service when we have an organist.

On Monday, our tables were decorated with pretty placemats, made in our craft room with the assistance of Dottie Muirhead and Donna Wallace, thank you girls. In the morning Bryn Gray came to play the piano and we enjoyed his music very much, thank you Bryn. In the evening we were entertained by William Mac who showed us his slides of Australia, they were beautiful.

Tuesday morning Chapel was conducted by Pastor Fast and the hymns were sung with the accompaniment of his Spanish guitar. In the afternoon Dottie and Donna came to help us with crafts, we are making paper dolls for our bedroom doors and have begun sweet little angels for our tables for the Christmas season. We enjoyed an evening of euchre with Corinne, thank you, your time with us is appreciated.

Wednesday, October 12 we went up the Old Bobcaygeon Road to Hwy. 118 and over to Carnarvon to see the colours, and, of course, we stopped at our favourite spot - Kawartha Dairy, for our weekly treat. Oh,

I must not forget, Dottie read the local papers to us in the morning and came on the bus with us, along with Nancy Hybrant. We welcome Nancy as a new volunteer. In the evening we were entertained by Kathleen Owen on the piano and Earl Cooper on the fiddle and mandolin, which was really enjoyable.

Thursday afternoon tea party was served by the Club 35 Ladies, who were Mary Schad, Verna Sawyer, Betty Campbell, Mary Pearson and Olive Jones. Thank you girls, it was delicious. Thanks also to Pat Scott and Rev. John Burgess who came in to assist us to the tea. In the evening, bingo was enjoyed with the assistance of Lee Ann Schlosser, thank you Lee Ann, it was fun.

Happy Hour on Friday, as per usual, was filled with fun and dancing. This time to the music of Billy and Ed Picard, along with our volunteers Pearl Cowan behind the bar and Bonnie Fullan, Donna Wallace and Loreen Swinson serving the refreshments. We welcome our friends and families to join us for this happy time.

A SPECIAL THANKS TO RED CROSS HOMEMAKERS

The office staff and volunteers of the Lindsay & District Branch, of the Canadian Red Cross Society, would like to take this opportunity during National Homemaker Week, to thank all of you for your dedication and commitment to excellence in your caregiving role as Red Cross Homemakers.

It takes a special person to be a caregiver. You are dedicated women and men who help people of all ages and in varying situations of need, to remain in their own homes. It is through your commitment and hard work that Red Cross is able to reach out to help those in need in our community.

Thank You.

District Governor praises work of Minden Lions

On Wednesday, October 12, the District Governor of A-16, Lion Vic Wareham, visited the Minden Lions.

After a delicious meal the Governor praised our Club for our work in our community as well as our participation in District and International projects.

Governor Vic presented our 3rd Vice President, Lion Dennis Edlington, with his 10 year Chevron Pin for his 10 years service in Lionism. Also, Secretary Lion Greg Readman received his Secretary 100% Pin for the year 1993/94.

Three years ago Lions International took on the most ambitious commitment of their 75 years of existence. Under the banner, Campaign Sighfirst the goal was to raise $130 million U.S. dollars to fight Preventable Blindness around the world. On June 30th, 1994, the final day of the campaign, it was reported the amount raised was $146.8 million U.S. dollars. The worlds' largest service club proved again that any goal can be reached by working together. Fifty thousand of these dollars are scheduled to go to the University of Toronto's Eye Bank Research Laboratory.

The Minden Community Santa Claus Parade is again being co-ordinated by the Lions Club. Parade day is Saturday, December 3, with start time being 1 p.m. in the arena parking lot. Immediately following the parade, Santa will be at the Minden Fire Hall so children under 12 years of age can visit him and have their picture taken and receive some goodies.

Notice to all Bingo players - the Lions are planning to have several $1000 Jackpot nights this year. The first $1000 night will be Thursday, December 15. Watch this paper for information on other dates. Reminder: the Early Bird game is 7 p.m. every Thursday with regular games at 7:15 p.m.

Special Note: Anyone who did not get a ticket in our Luxury Draw this year may have their name added to a list for Luxury Draw '95 by notifying any Lion or by phoning 286-3714 or 489-4083. All holders of tickets for this year will have first chance at tickets for Luxury Draw '95.

A TIMELY DONATION: Minden County Town Museum Committee representative Lee Oster accepted a gift from the Toye family recently when they presented the organizations with a pendulum school clock. The timepiece was donated by John and June Toye in memory of their father, Earl Toye, who attended SS No. 9, the schoolhouse which has been moved to the museum's village of historical structures.

20% extinction in the next 30 years

Harvard University professor, Edward O. Wilson, is one of the most respected biologists of our time. A specialist in insects, he has made a number seminal contributions in ecology.

After a lifetime spent pursuing and measuring the variety of life on Earth, he has become alarmed at the rapid global diminution in biodiversity, the variety of living organisms.

Wilson has observed catastrophic changes in tropical forests since his first visits in the 1950s as a graduate student. Escalating human numbers, consumption and pollution have altered the planet and to Wilson, the most harmful consequence is a steep decline in biodiversity.

Life's rich multiplicity constantly cleanses air and water, replenishes the soil and recreates biological abundance.

Once a species disappears, it can never be recreated. On the other hand: "If diversity is sustained in wild ecosystems, the biosphere can be recovered and used by future generations to any degree desired and with benefits literally beyond measure. To the extent it is diminished, humanity will be poorer for all generations to come."

Wilson points out that the most frightening aspect of the current extinction crisis is the enormity of our ignorance of what we are losing. While only about 1.4 million species have been named by scientists, the actual number may lie between 10 and 100 million.

"Among the least known groups are the fungi, with 69,000 known species, but 1.6 million thought to exist. Also poorly explored, at least eight million and possibly tens of millions of species of arthropods in the tropical rain forests, as well as millions of invertebrate species

...six species disappear every hour

Reflections

by David Suzuki

on the vast floor of the deep sea."

But of all organisms, the ones we know least may be bacteria, of which a mere 4,000 species are recognized. Wilson says: "Recent studies in Norway indicate the presence of 4,000 to 5,000 species, different from the first set and also mostly new, in an average gram of nearby marine sediment."

The current removal rate of tropical rain forest, about 1.8 per cent of cover each year, translates to approximately 0.5 per cent of the species extirpated immediately or at least doomed to much earlier extinction... More than half the species of organisms on earth live in the tropical rain forests.

If there are 10 million species in these habitats, a conservative estimate, the rate of loss may exceed 50,000 a-year, 137 a day, six an hour. This rate while horrendous, is actually the minimal estimate. It does not take into account extinction due to pollution, disturbance short of clear cutting and the introduction of exotic species.

Species relationships that evolved over millions of years are being wiped out in a geological blink. "Unchecked, 20 per cent or more of the earth's species will disappear or be consigned to early extinction during the next 30 years. From prehistory to the present time, humanity has probably already eliminated 10 or even 20 per cent of the species.

Extinction is a part of the evolutionary process and in the past, there have been episodes of mega-extinction. The most recent wiped out the dinosaurs.

Wilson informs us that: "The five previous major spasms of the past 550 millions years... each required about 10 million years of natural evolution to restore. What humanity is doing now in a single lifetime will impoverish our descendants for all time to come."

I have heard it suggested that since human beings are a part of nature, whatever we do must also be regarded as "natural". So it doesn't matter if we instigate a wave of extinction. Wilson replies: "The vast material wealth offered by biodiversity is at risk. Wild species are an untapped source of new pharmaceuticals, crops, fibers, pulp, petroleum substitutes, and agents for the restoration of soil and water. This argument is demonstrably true...but it contains a dangerous practical flaw when relied upon exclusively. If species are to be judged by their potential material value, they can be priced, traded off against other sources of wealth, and when the price is right, discarded. Yet who can judge the ultimate value of any particular species to humanity?"

In 1984, Wilson suggested that human beings have a genetically programmed need to associate with other life forms. He call in biophilia. I'll explore the implications of the concept next week.

Around the County Town

by Jeanne Sears (call 286-1538)

Hazel Austen was away recently and enjoyed a great visit in Nova Scotia and Cape Breton. She also attended the 60th Wedding Anniversary of her sister Ellen and her husband Eric Durant, and had many visits with many nieces and nephews.

* * *

All good wishes to these people: Vern Graham, Sam Rogers, Mary Guilmann, Jeane Lacey, Lillian Davidson and Dan Austen and to anyone else whom I may have missed.

* * *

Gerald and Betty Hicks were away last weekend visiting family and friends in Oshawa.

* * *

We heard that there were several quilting bees at Gelert Centre with ladies doing their work on special articles and thanks to all who came out to help.

* * *

Elva Deacon attended the 80th birthday party with her sister Mrs. Ruth MacEachern at the Senior Citizens' Hall in Woodville. She also had dinner with Ruth's neighbours at the home of Norma and Ralph MacEachern, also a social time for Ruth. This was a great time for all.

* * *

A bit late with this, but there were euchres at Gelert Centre on Tuesday, October 11 (the Vick's were away when we called). Winners that evening were Gordon Kellett, Gerald Hicks, Betty Hicks and Bessie Burk with most lone hands was Ralph Schroter. Next games will be on Tuesday, October 25 starting at 7:30 p.m. with all welcome.

* * *

The weekly Monday afternoon euchres at St. Paul's on Monday, October 17, had as winners: Jack C., Roberta Walker, Nancy Gayton and with lone hands going to Marie Dennie. These start at 1:30 p.m. and everyone is welcome.

* * *

Sincere sympathy goes to the families of the late Eunice Wright, Bryan Abbs, Merle Thomas, Charles Hunter and John Hughes whose funerals were last week.

* * *

There were the regular Tuesday afternoon euchres at the Legion Branch 636 on October 18, and winners of the day were Shirley Elcome, Jack C., Irene Fuhr and Pat Bradburn. Most lone hands went to Marg McAfee. We heard they had a very successful Pot Luck on the evening of October 17 for this same Legion Seniors' Group.

* * *

At the Tuesday afternoon Bridge games at Stanhope Centre on October 18, winners were Vange Croucher, Betty Schlotter and Helen Rice. Yes, they will be playing Bridge Tuesday afternoons for November and December at the usual time of 1 p.m. with all welcome and no partner needed.

* * *

Tuesday evening, October 18, there were euchre games at Lochlin Centre with winners Vivian Anderson, Bob Vick, Bruce O'Brien and Grace Dixon and lone hands going to Marian Minaker. They had a great time enjoyed their games and will welcome you at their next games November 1 at 7:30 p.m.

* * *

There was a large crowd of 19 tables playing Bid Euchre at Stanhope on Wednesday, October 19, with guests from the Dorset Senior Club joining in. Winners of that night included for Moonshots, Margaret Fletcher, Marg McAfee, Ida Young, Jim Skinner, Peggy Walker, Elsie Henderson, Clare Brown and Jamie Chombers. High scores were held by Ida Young, Marg McAfee and Marg McClelland, Peggy Walker, Grenville Griffin, Ken Wallace and Jim Shank. These games are really exciting and they start at 7 p.m. on Wednesday evenings.

* * *

There will be on December 3 & 5 a big show with vendors at Minden Community Centre, taking up the full upstairs, sponsored by Nathalia Gifts and Accents with other clever people from all of this county.

* * *

St. Paul's is having the Annual Turkey Dinner on Friday, November 4 with sittings at 5 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. and if possible have your tickets from Campbell's or the Church Office and numbers to call are - Church Office 286-2541 or Campbells' 286-1640.

* * *

County Town Museum Meeting is at 10 a.m. with meeting first and Pot Luck to follow.

* * *

Club 35 Euchre October 17 Winners were: 50-50 - Betty Matthews, most lone hands - Norm Lee, high lady - Jean Hewitt, high man - Bill Matthews, others - Edith Russell, George Hewitt and Olive Jones. The next Wheels to Meals will be October 25th at 12 noon.

* * *

Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 636, October 13: Most lone hands, ladies - Barbara Kenneth, most lone hands, men - Bill Kleinschmidt, high score, ladies - Helen Lee, high score, man - Pat Scaden, low lady - Maria Tschida, low man - Martha Mansfield, other prizes - Marian Trevien, Pete Learst, B. Harper, Helen Skelding, Reg McDonald and Maria Tschida.

* * *

Welcome back Ruby Johnston who spent a week in Victoria, B.C. attending her grandson, Dan Johnston's wedding.

NEVER AGAIN!

IN MEMORIAM

SEARS, G. Milton:

We were together a long time. Had our quarrels and problems. With family that grew up just fine. They had to really 'toe the line'. You're missed but we go on. Still memories linger of my man. In loving memory of a great partner, remembered always by your wife Jeanne Sears.

SEARS, G. Milton: In loving memory of a dear father, grandfather and great-grandfather who passed away November 4, 1987.

A sadness still comes over us, Tears in silence often flow, Memory keeps you ever near us, Though you died seven years ago.

Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by your daughter Carolyn and Reg Leaman and family.

PHILLIPS: Blanche & Goldie:

In loving memory of my loving sister Blanche Doreen and her husband Goldie who went to be with the Lord as a result of a car accident on Saturday, October 16, 1993.

There's a gift of life you cannot buy, It's a gift of a wonderful sister or brother-in-law, Like the ones I had in you. The many things you did for me,

In your kind of loving ways, You gave me years of happiness No one can take away.

Nothing could be more beautiful

Than the memories I have of this.

To me you were someone special

God must have thought so too, I believe they are gone to be

With the Lord whom they loved and served.

Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by sister Lila.
